NHRA HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS IN SONOMA

March 8-9, 1969: The San Francisco National Open marks the first NHRA-sanctioned drag race in Sonoma.

July 31, 1988: Winners of the first NHRA nationals included Joe Amato (Top Fuel), Mark Oswald (Funny Car) and Harry Scribner (Pro Stock).

1990 – John Force posts his first of eight Funny Car wins in Sonoma (the most of any NHRA racer). He goes on to win 1990-92, 1994, 2000, 2002, 2007, 2016.

1992: Don Prudhomme becomes the first driver to win in two different professional classes in Sonoma – Funny Car (1989) and Top Fuel (1992).

Aug. 6, 2000: Doug Kalitta became one of two NHRA drivers to three-peat in Sonoma. Kalitta from 1998-2000 in Top Fuel, and John Force from 1990-1992 in Funny Car.

2000: Warren Johnson becomes the first Pro Stock driver to eclipse the 200 mph barrier in Sonoma, turning the quarter-mile at 201.16 mph.

Aug. 5, 2001: Phase two of the raceway's modernization officially kicked off at the conclusion of the NHRA FRAM Autolite Nationals when drag racers John Force and Gary Scelzi ripped up portions of the drag strip while piloting Caterpillar bulldozers.

March 27, 2002: NHRA stars Gary Scelzi and Kenny Bernstein take the ceremonial first pass down the completely refurbished quarter-mile drag strip.

2002: The Pro Stock Motorcycle category is added to the NHRA Nationals event in Sonoma.

2004: Angelle Sampey became the first female NHRA Nationals winner in Sonoma capturing her first Pro Stock Bike win at Infineon Raceway and resetting the elapsed-time record (7.048 seconds).

July 31, 2005: Legendary racer Warren Johnson becomes the first drag racer to be inducted into the raceway's Wall of Fame.

2005: Doug Kalitta posts his fifth Sonoma Top Fuel win.

2006: Eric Medlen scores an emotional first Funny Car win at his home track.

July 27, 2014: Courtney Force becomes the winningest female driver in Funny Car history after defeating her father, John Force, in the final round in Sonoma. Courtney topped the record previously held by her sister, Ashley.

Aug. 2, 2015: All four No. 1 qualifiers went on to win their respective categories for the first time in NHRA history.

Aug. 2, 2015: Top Fueler Antron Brown joins Funny Car driver Ron Capps as a four-time Sonoma winner. Five-time Sonoma winners include Doug Kalitta (Top Fuel) and Greg Anderson (Pro Stock).

July 31, 2016: John Force adds to his record for most NHRA career victories in Sonoma, with eight in the Funny Car class (1990-92, 1994, 2000, 2002, 2007, 2016).

July 29, 2017: Robert Hight sets the national Funny Car speed record at 339.87 mph.

July 30, 2017: J.R. Todd secured his first career Funny Car victory making him the first African-American to win in the NHRA Funny Car category and also the second driver in NHRA history to win at Sonoma Raceway in both nitro categories (Top Fuel, 2006 and 2016).

July 26, 2019: 2018 Pro Stock Motorcycle world champ Matt Smith breaks the track-record speed at 200.83 mph.

July 28, 2019: Sonoma Raceway celebrates its 50th anniversary. Robert Hight also celebrates his own golden milestone with his 50th career Funny Car win, making him the third driver in NHRA history to reach 50 career wins.

July 24, 2022: Top Fuel driver Brittany Force made the quickest run in Sonoma Raceway history with a 3.662 in her win over John Force Racing teammate Austin Prock and set the track speed record on three consecutive runs on Sunday, capped off by a 337.75 mph run in her semifinal victory over Shawn Langdon.

July 30, 2023: Gaige Herrera became the first rider in Pro Stock Motorcycle history – and the first NHRA competitor since 2009 – to sweep the three-race NHRA Western Swing, racing to victory on Sunday at Sonoma Raceway at the 35th Annual DENSO NHRA Sonoma Nationals.

2023 NHRA SONOMA NATIONALS RECAP

Herrera Sweeps NHRA Western Swing; Ashley and Todd Also Collect (SONOMA, Calif.) - Wins at DENSO NHRA Sonoma Nationals

Top Fuel's Antron Brown defeated first-time finalist Tony Stewart in the final round of the 36th annual Denso NHRA Sonoma Nationals, picking up his third win of the 2024 season on Sunday at Sonoma Raceway.

Bob Tasca III (Funny Car), Aaron Stanfield (Pro Stock) and Matt Smith (Pro Stock Motorcycle) also won the 12th of 20 races during the 2024 NHRA Mission Foods Drag Racing Series season.

Stewart left first with a slight advantage on the starting line, but Brown quickly tracked him down, going 3.746-seconds at 329.67 mph in his 11,000-horsepower Matco Tools/Toyota dragster to earn his 77th career victory. Brown defeated Shawn Reed, Steve Torrence and Brittany Force to reach the final round, leaning on consistency time after time this weekend in Sonoma.

It paid off in a major way, as Brown, who qualified seventh, powered to his fifth Top Fuel victory at Sonoma, which ties him with Doug Kalitta for the most in class history at the facility.

"Sonoma has a special meaning to me. It's like a piece of heaven out here and just being here puts me in the zone," Brown said. "Me and Tony know each other well. When I started as a team owner he was putting together TSR, we talked a lot about budgets and spread sheets and all that.

"He was also a hero of mine when he ran NASCAR and IndyCar. I know how good of a driver he is. He understands the science so as soon as he showed up I knew what he could do. I did tell him to come on over but there are a lot of sharks in the water here. His time is coming and it won't be one win. It will be a lot of them, but this is a good win for us. My team stays poised and they were incredible all weekend. I'm super-pumped for all of them. We went down the track every single lap and that was an awesome, awesome job to get a win like this."

Stewart's first final in Top Fuel came after defeating Shawn Langdon, Justin Ashley and Ron August Jr., who upset points leader, No. 1 qualifier and reigning world champion Doug Kalitta in the first round.

In Funny Car, nobody could track down Bob Tasca III all weekend and that continued in the final round, racing to his second Sonoma win in three years by taking down Ron Capps in the final round with a 4.088 at 277.15 in his 11,000-horsepower Motorcraft/Quick Lane Ford Mustang. It's also the third win of the year for Tasca, who remained second points, and he did it in incredible fashion.

Tasca qualified No. 1 with a 338-mph run, added a weekend-best run of 338.77 in the opening round against Buddy Hull and then drove past Paul Lee and points leader Austin Prock to reach the final round. The semifinals against Prock was a thriller, as Tasca won on a holeshot with an .022 reaction time, sending him to the final round where he held on to the win against Capps. It was another rewarding moment for Tasca, who now has 18 career wins as he gets into championship form.

"It's so hard to win these things and that's a testament to my crew, to Todd Okuhara and Aaron Brooks," Tasca said. "They pulled it back and still ran 337 mph. I was a bit surprised in the final. It was pulling great and then it knocked the tires off. You have no idea how that feels. I looked out the side window because I expected him to come by me. Fortunately, I got it to recover.

"I thought if we could get the car to run like it ran in Q4 we could beat him and I said that to Todd. I said, 'Let's run as quick as we can and if he beats us, I'll be the first to congratulate him.'"

Capps advanced to the finals for the second time in three races and the 149th time in his career by getting round wins against Cruz Pedregon, defending event winner J.R. Todd and reigning world champion Matt Hagan.

"Aaron Stanfield stayed red-hot in the Pro Stock ranks, which meant Elite Motorsports did as well, as Stanfield won for the third time in four races while taking down first-time Pro Stock finalist Cory Reed in the championship round with an impressive run of 6.540 at 209.98 in his Johnson's Horsepowered Garage/Melling Performance/Janac Brothers car. It's also the 11th career win for Stanfield, whose efforts over the past two months have helped propel Elite Motorsports to six straight victories.

Stanfield has three of them in that span, grabbing his second career win at Sonoma Raceway after defeating Mason McGaha, defending world champion Erica Enders and No. 1 qualifier Greg Anderson. He delivered another strong reaction time in the final round against Reed, rolling to the victory as Stanfield continues to make big strides this season.

"This is a great win, but I want to shout out to Cory Reed for going to the final in his second race," Stanfield said. "This week we lost a good friend, Tim "the Iceman" Kelly, to cancer and I wanted to get it done for him. I know Cory is fresh to the class so I would have been surprised if he played any games, so I just did my normal routine. I think I'm driving better this year and I'd love to continue that."

"We didn't have a great ladder since all the hitters seemed to be on one side. I had to race Erica and we're teammates, but we still want to beat each other. Then there was Greg and you've got to be on your game anytime you race him."

In just his second career Pro Stock start, Reed, who previously raced in Pro Stock Motorcycle, advanced to the final round by taking down Deric Kramer, Eric Latino and Jerry Tucker. Dallas Glenn remains the points leader in the class.

Pro Stock Motorcycle's Matt Smith, a six-time world champion, finished off one of the best weekends in his career on Sunday, getting his first win of the season by taking down teammate John Hall in the final round with a run of 6.700 at 203.77 on his Denso Auto Parts Buell. It was a picture-perfect three days for Smith, who qualified No. 1, set the track record with a stellar 6.655, won the GETTRX Pro Stock Motorcycle All-Star Callout on Saturday and then snapped a winless streak that stretched back to the Countdown to the Championship opener last September in Reading, Pa.

That drought is over in emphatic fashion, as Smith, now a two-time Sonoma winner, took down Eiji Kawakami and Seattle winner Chase Van Sant to reach the final round against Hall. His teammate left the starting line first, but Smith, who also picked up his 39th career win, quickly chased him down, picking up a meaningful win and putting him right back on track when it comes to racing for what would be a class-record seventh world championship.

"This is very big," Smith said. "This is a Denso event which is our sponsor, and we won everything there is to win. We put a lot into getting our bikes ready for this weekend. We're gaining ground on the rest of the field and that takes a team effort.

"It's all in the 60-foot area. Our class is so dependent on that. The Suzuki's stepped up their game and we need to follow them. I learned to leave low and take power out to get the bike to leave the starting line. I'm 51 and I'm getting older but I can still do this. To me, the magic number is seven. If I get that seventh title this year I promise I'll get off the bike and put some young kid on it who can do the job."

Hall reached his second final round this year and the fourth in his career by defeating Angie Smith, defending world champion and points leader Gaige Herrera and Hector Arana Jr.

NHRA SONOMA NATIONALS PIT NOTES

The following are some points of interest regarding previous events in Sonoma:

- In 2023, Gaige Herrera became the first rider in Pro Stock Motorcycle history – and the first NHRA competitor since 2009 – to sweep the three-race NHRA Western Swing, racing to victory at the 35th Annual DENSO NHRA Sonoma Nationals.
- In 2022, Brittany Force made the quickest run in Sonoma Raceway history in the first round with a 3.662 in her win over John Force Racing teammate Austin Prock and then set the track speed record on three consecutive runs on Sunday, capped off by a 337.75 mph run in her semifinal victory over Shawn Langdon.
- In 2019, Top Fueler Brittany Force set a new Top Fuel speed record with a run of 335.15 mph, while Pro Stock Motorcycle rider Matt Smith set a track record speed of 200.83 mph and went on to secure his third runner-up finish at Sonoma.
- Doug Kalitta, John Force and LE Tonglet are tied for the most consecutive wins at Sonoma in their respective classes with three; Kalitta (Top Fuel, 1998-2000); Force (Funny Car, 1990-'92); Tonglet (Pro Stock Motorcycle, 2016-'18).
- J.R. Todd secured his first career Funny Car victory in 2017 making him the first African-American to win in the NHRA Funny Car category and also the second driver in NHRA history to win at Sonoma Raceway in both nitro categories (Top Fuel, 2006 and 2016); the first was Don Prudhomme - Funny Car in 1989 and Top Fuel in 1992.
- In 2015, all four No. 1 qualifiers went on to win their respective categories for the first time in NHRA history.
- John Force holds the record for most NHRA career victories in Sonoma, with eight in the Funny Car class (1990-92, 1994, 2000, 2002, 2007, 2016).
- With his 2015 Top Fuel victory, Antron Brown joined Funny Car driver Ron Capps as a four-time Sonoma winner.
- Joe Amato won the first-ever NHRA Top Fuel final at then-Sears Point Raceway in 1988. Other winners that year were Mark Oswald (Funny Car) and Harry Scribner (Pro Stock).
- LE Tonglet remains the most winningest Pro Stock Motorcycle driver at Sonoma with four (2011, '16, '17, '18). Andrew Hines and Eddie Krawiec are both three-time Sonoma winners; Hines (2005, '09, '19); Krawiec (2012, '14, '15).
- Sonoma Raceway is the only current track where NHRA and NASCAR race cars share a common surface.
- Top Fuel Dragsters accelerate from 0-100 mph in 0.8 of a second and travel more than the length of three football fields in less than four seconds.

- From a standing start, NHRA Top Fuel dragsters accelerate quicker than a jumbo jet, a fighter jet and a Formula One race car.
- A Top Fuel dragster leaves the starting line with a force nearly five times that of gravity, the same force of the space shuttle when it leaves the launch pad at Cape Canaveral.
